RE: Speaking Invitation
 The Yale-USSR Project
 Yale Undergraduate Organization
 Washington, D.C.
 3, 4, or 5 October 1988

The Director of the Incoming Delegation of the Yale-USSR Project, Alex Mishkin has invited you to meet with 15 Soviet students who will be coming to the United States on an exchange program with Yale University. The students will be from Moscow State University and will participate in a program administered entirely by students of Yale and Moscow State. In addition to New York and New Haven, they are scheduled to visit Washington 3-5 October when they would like to meet several prominent United States Government officials.

Since meeting with these Soviet students might be misinterpreted, and in view of your heavy schedule, I recommend that you decline this invitation. If you agree, a letter of regret is attached for your signature.

Sir:

I believe that the content of the session itself could be kept within satisfactory bounds. I believe further, however, that lots of people will work very hard to misunderstand both content and motives, and, therefore, recommend against doing it.

Dear Judge Webster,

I am writing to you to inquire as to whether you would be interested in meeting with Soviet students from Moscow State University this October.

The fifteen Soviets will be in the United States on an exchange program with Yale University. Each spring, Yale sends twelve students to Moscow to experience Soviet culture and to meet with Soviet students and their families. For the second time, Moscow State will send fifteen students to the United States this October. The Soviets will visit New York, New Haven, and Washington, D.C.

If you have any available time on either October 3rd, 4th, or the morning of the 5th to meet with these students, we would be most appreciative. Many of the Soviets who will be coming are the leaders of their class at Moscow State. In all likelihood, they will be the next generation of rulers in the Soviet Union.

The Yale-USSR Project is run entirely by students, both at Yale and at Moscow State. When it was founded, it was the first exchange of its kind in the history of U.S.-Soviet relations. Last April, the Yale delegation to Moscow met with several prominent members of the Soviet Government. When the Soviets come this fall, we would like to be able to reciprocate.

Again, I would like to emphasize what an honor it would be for both the Soviets and us to meet with you this October. If you have any questions, I would be glad to answer them. During the summer, you can contact me at the New Jersey address above or at (800) 631-7636 ex 2975.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Alex Mishkin
Director, Incoming Delegation
